

DID YOU KNOW?

- There are over 600,000 survivors of female genital mutilation (FGM) in Europe
- 190,000 girls and women remain at risk

Women and girls affected by FGM need the support of informed professionals equipped with specialised gender and culturally sensitive knowledge and skills.

WHY SUPPORT THE PLATFORM?

Domestic and international laws prohibit the practice, and support services are available throughout Europe. However, professionals often have knowledge and training gaps, affecting standards of treatment, support, and protection of survivors and communities at risk.

The End FGM E-Campus platform aims to fill these gaps.

By supporting the platform, you can help professionals better support persons affected by FGM.

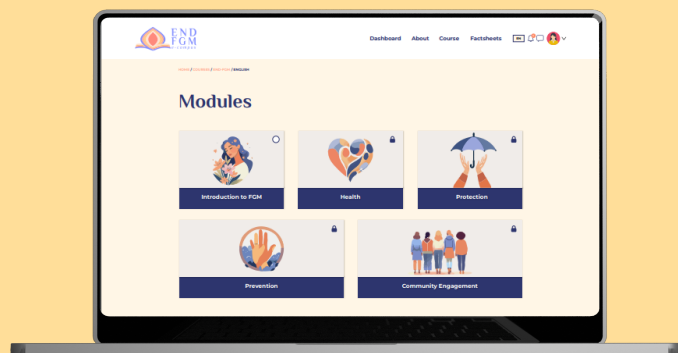

ABOUT THE PLATFORM

The End FGM E-Campus is a free, online learning platform providing high-quality, accessible knowledge to European professionals dealing with FGM-affected communities.

Available in English, French, Greek, Italian, and Portuguese.

5 targeted modules:

- Introduction to FGM
- Health: Managing the Consequences of FGM
- Protection: Legal and Policy Measures Against FGM
- Prevention: Raising Awareness on FGM Through Education
- Community Engagement: Working with FGM-Affected Communities

Study at your own pace and in your own time

Certificate of completion
